

GOVERNOR'S WIFE'S MOTHER IS DEAD

Mrs. Strong, mother of Mrs. George Carter, died at Rochester, New York, yesterday. Her last illness must have been short, for late previous advices were that Mr. and Mrs. Strong intended coming to Hawaii in the steamer Korea from San Francisco in February. The esteemed couple visited Honolulu two or three years ago, making many friends and being delighted themselves with the islands.

Governor Carter received a cablegram at 8:15 yesterday, announcing Mrs. Strong's serious illness and requesting him to prepare his wife for the worst. At about 2:15 the saddest message came. The Governor cabled in reply asking his father-in-law as to his wishes regarding what Mrs. Carter should do. Mrs. Carter would go on to Rochester if requested, but they thought possibly her father might come out here.

Mrs. Macfarlane Entertained.

Miss Maye Colburn gave one of her delightful dinners last evening complimentary to Mrs. Harry Macfarlane for whom she was maid of honor. Pink roses and ferns decorated and blended with the soft light thrown by pink-shaded candelabra. The affair was simply a reunion of old friends who had seen many merry days together before marriage changed the homes and immediate interests of some.

Those present were Mrs. Lyman Colburn, Miss Colburn, Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton, Dr. and Mrs. John Rogers Clark, Mr. and Mrs. William Lindsay Spencer, Major Stephenson, U. S. A., Emerson Warfield and Frank Owens.—Chronicle.

First War Correspondent.

The first of the war correspondents for the expected Russo-Japan war arrived yesterday on the Sonoma from Australia, and will continue his voyage today in the Nippon Maru. The correspondent is F. A. McKenzie of the London Daily Mail, who was sent to Australia last year to study the economic conditions of the Commonwealth. Mrs. McKenzie accompanies him. He deplores the labor conditions in Australia, saying the organizations are attempting to solve the question by a return to the restrictions and regulations of the mediaeval guilds.

Soldier From Peking.

A discharged soldier on the transport Sheridan, who was formerly with Company B, Ninth Infantry, which has been stationed at Peking as the legation guard, states that the Chinese have done little toward rebuilding since the siege. The foreigners have restored their residences and government buildings. A new building for the United States legation is being built close to the compound where the United States soldiers are quartered.

Friends of Kawaihahoe.

Through the Advertiser Kawaihahoe seminary wishes to thank the kind friends who contributed to its Christmas cheer. From May & Co., a generous supply of nuts, the New England Bakery a pair of candy and box of popcorn; Mr. Tenney, three dozen pa-payas; Mrs. S. N. Castle, box of apples; Mr. A. F. Cooke, pair of nuts; Mrs. Brown (Y. W. C. A.) cakes and buns.

New Year's Advertiser ready for mailing at 5c each to be had at the office.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

There will be a Carmen rehearsal at the Opera House tonight.

The tug Fearless towed the last-loaded garbage scows to sea.

Wm. Savidge, Registrar of the Land Court, was licensed yesterday to practice law in the lower courts.

The Eagles will hold their regular meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock. A number of new members are to be initiated.

The reception and lunch which was planned for the noon hour at Central Union church in honor of President Clark, will not be held, owing to the Sierra being late.

Prof. Koebele may return in the Sierra today, at the urgent desire of the Board of Agriculture, though latterly cabled to use his own discretion about coming back now.

The new parasites to combat the tree blight, which Prof. Koebele sent from the Coast in a recent steamer, are just beginning to hatch out. It will shortly be seen what they can do.

Court Lunatio No. 6600, A. O. F., will hold their regular business meeting this evening. There is to be installation of officers and all members are earnestly requested to attend.

Mrs. James L. Stack of Chicago and Miss Ina Taft will arrive shortly in this city and will sail for Honolulu on January 21st. They expect to spend about three months in the Islands.—Chronicle.

Pacific Hardware Co., Ltd., are distributing some very handsome calendars for 1904. One in colors of an Indian in full costume, with bow and arrow, on a red background is especially effective.

The handy memorandum calendar of the London Assurance Corporation has been distributed by Bruce Cartwright, the local agent. It provides four lines for memo's for each day and is much appreciated.

The Advertiser mailed a copy of its New Year Pearl Harbor edition yesterday to each member of the U. S. Senate, the House of Representatives, heads of Departments and to the principal newspapers of the country.

The band of the Twenty-eighth Infantry gave a fine concert last evening on the roof garden of the Alexander Young Hotel. The band is under excellent leadership. The selections were heartily applauded. There was dancing.

The Hayward Review issues a Christmas number of twelve pages and a lithographed cover, which is an excellent stroke of enterprise. One of the publishers, Mr. O. Roy Morgan, was formerly a member of the Advertiser staff.

First District Magistrate Lyle A. Dickey, though accepting the loss of salary with resignation of spirit, intends to hold on to his commission. It will not expire until the summer of 1905, so that his tenure is much longer than that of the County Supervisors.

T. W. Duncan recently of the San Francisco Examiner is spending a few weeks in the Islands for the benefit of his health. He has seen all the wonders of America but considers the scenic and climatic attractions of the Islands equal to anything in the States.

A most attractive calendar for 1904 is that of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. It consists of a series of six pictures, in colors, of children at play. The pictures are by Maud Humphreys and are a credit to the artist and to the good taste of the Equitable.

For the third time the sale of land was postponed yesterday, in the suit of Kapiolani Estate against R. Wm. Holt and Geo. H. Holt. The property consists of 10 55-100 acres at Kailih. Wm. Blaisdell, commissioner of sale, says efforts are being made to settle the matter out of court.

The army officers and ladies of the United States transport Sheridan enjoyed dancing last evening in the makai ballroom of the Alexander Young Hotel, a compliment to them by Manager Lake. After the regimental band concert a Hawaiian quintette club played for dancing and the visitors were given several hours' enjoyment in the wailing of Terpichore. The officers and ladies formed a jolly crowd and were augmented in numbers by several townfolk.
